

2IR – Analysis of International Relations

To graduate with the 2IR minor specialization means:

1. To complete courses at a partner university, within the field of International Relations, corresponding to a minimum of 27 ECTS credits /until 2018, 24 credits/ → more information on the semester abroad;
2. To complete a Research Paper – RP (different than a Master's Thesis), agreed upon in the 2nd semester (i.e. before going abroad), in the 2SM613 – Research seminar (3 ECTS credits) → more information on the Research Seminar / Research Paper;
3. To take the 2IR2 (or 2IR) – Minor Specialization Comprehensive Exam (3 ECTS credits), in the form of a defence of the Research Paper. The exam is a comprehensive assessment of the minor specialization where the RP reviews are taken into account, performance at defense, and results from the semester abroad.
